Transco High Bidders on 5 Tracts

HOUSTON, TEXAS (Nov. 19, 1976) – In a sale of Federal leases off-shore in the Gulf of Mexico held on November 16, a group headed by Transco Exploration Company was high bidder on five tracts. Some $145,000,000 was bid by the Transco group on tracts at the sale with bids on the five tracts on which the group was high bidder totaling $123,380,000. Transco's portion of the five bids was $39,842,000.

Apparently successful bids were made on Vermilion block 310, Eugene Island block 310, East Cameron block 336, West Delta block 34 (N/2) and vermilion block 25. Transco's interest in these tracts ranges from 27.2 percent to 38.3 percent. The Transco five-company group includes Freeport Oil Company, McMoRan Exploration Company, Pioneer Production Company, The Continental Group, Inc., and the Energy Development Company Louisiana Land and Exploration Company joined the group in bidding on two of the blocks.

Transco Companies, Inc., an energy-supply company, is the parent of Transco Exploration, through which it is engaged inexploration for oil and gas both onshore and offshore in the United States. Through

ANDERSON REPRESENTED SS COOP-MEMBERS

Edwin Anderson of Appomattox represented Southern States Cooperative's members at the association's 53rd Annual Stockholders' meeting held in Richmond, Va., November 17 and 18.

Also attending the session was Dan G. Coleman, representing Coleman & Sons local Southern Sataes retail outlet.

They heard Executive vice president and general manager, John J. Feland, report that, total dollar volume for the fiscal year ended last June 30, topped $315 million. This was an increase of about $27 million.

Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, it owns a major interstate pipe-line system for the purchase, sale and transportation of natural gas from Texas and Louisiana to the eastern United States. In addition, through other subsidiaries, Transco is pursuing projects for obtaining pipeline-quality gas from synthetic and supplemental sources.

Quick Gift Ideas

Are you looking for gift items that are quick and inexpensive to make? If you look around you at the many items you use daily, they might give ideas for some gifts.

Catalogues and magazines will give designs as a springboard for your own designs. Have a notebook ready for ideas. Sometimes it may be simple but a few notes will help you recall just what you need and some mechanics. If there are directions, always read carefully and completely before beginning a project. Then, follow the directions.

When making gifts for a young child, always keep the child's safety in mind. Be sure to use nonflammable, washable, durable fabric and stuffing. This is particularly important when you are making stuffed dolls and animals. Always take extra care to sew on buttons and trims securely to eliminate the danger of a child chewing and swallowing them. When making wooden toys for children, sand all sharp corners and use only nontoxic paint products.

Be sure and supervise your child's work--at least until he completes his first project. Let him do the work by himself, but be on hand for extra guidance, encouragements, and praise.

Remember, the sooner you get started, the more time to make and enjoy the pleasure of your accomplishments. Make it a real fun season for the whole family.

You've been making cut-and-paste gifts since you were in the first grade. Paper was probably your first medium because it was readily available and easy to work with. Today's cut-and-paste cult has graduated to new frontiers: fabric, yarn, foil, tape, and cord.

Somewhere in your house you might have some scraps of fabric and yarn. If not, be thrifty and buy from remnant tables. Don't forget the self-adhesive fabrics, and try the iron-on bonding materials found in sewing departments. This is the time to experiment with materials.

Today's tote bag or litter bag can be a decorative object to hand on the door of a closet. If you can think of a wall hanging, you might want to use it on the wall in place of a picture. An old hat rack makes a nice holder for all the family's tote bags. Make the bag any size you like, take a good look at a paper bag.

You can choose some of the bicentennial symbols for decorations. Cut from felt, and glue to the bag. Add a felt handle to make it easy to carry.

This idea makes a thoughtful gift for someone who is about to take a trip; especially if you fill the bag with handy articles. For an older person you might want to tuck in a cushion and a pair of eyeglass holders.

If you think of ways to use your item it will help you to design your creative item and add an extra personality touch to your gift.

Be creative and have fun with your family as you prepare gifts to share with others during the holiday season.

If the Appomattox County Extension Office can help you, call (352-8244) or write P.O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522.

Recipe of the Week
Candy Caramels

½pound butter
4 ½ cups white sugar
1 can evaporated milk (13 oz.)
1 pint white corn syrup

Put butter, corn syrup and sugar in a heavy saucepan. Wet down with some of milk and stir. Add ½ milk and cook down on medium low heat while stirring. Add rest of milk and cook on medium low heat stirring constantly until candy thermometer reaches 238 - 240 degrees. Pour into buttered pan. *I use rectangle glass baking pan. Chill several hours, or overnight. Cut, wrap. Yield: 3-4 pounds. This makes a nice gift for family and friends.

The Corner Drug Store--THEN?

Then And Now

By: Frances H. Paulette

"The Way It Really Was"

Wouldn't you know it? Just when I was about ready to go back in time and sneak in the Old Corner Drug Store of the early 1920's, I'd get caught! I was going to invite all of you folks who might be interested to go along and maybe we would have gotten some free ice cream. It would be fun to find out about all the interesting things that went on in the Drug Store in the "good ole days".

Well, it's like this--if we're going to find out about the "goings-on" of the Drug Store in Appmattox, we have to delve into the past a bit more. You see, the Drug Store on the corner was not the first in Appomattox. I have a very special lady's word on this--Mrs. A. T. Inge, formerly Miss Mary Moses of this town. Mrs. Inge, who has been such a tremendous help in giving me a world of information for my articles is really quite an authority on Appomattox in days gone by.

Mrs. Inge, who with her husband, Allison T. Inge, for many years owned and operated the successful business of Inge's Department Store on Main Street. Although retired from business in the sense we think of business, she is in no way retired from the business of life. Singlehanded, she manages the rental properties she owns; she has been an active member of Liberty Baptist Church for sixty-four years, having worked in Bible School for forty-eight of those years. At present she is teaching a class of adult women and has taught in one department or another for a total of sixty years.

According to Mrs. Inge, who has the most amazing ability to recall events accurately, the first Drug Store in Appomattox was operated in the Reynoolds Store Building on the ground floor. William Abbitt Coleman was the owner and operator and Mrs. Inge sets the time at about 1906 or 1908.

Most likely, the reason Mrs. Inge remembers so well this Drug Store is because along with approximately twenty-five other students she attended school on the top floor of this same building. It seems a new school was being built and because of lack of room in the old school building, the third grade attended classes here that were taught by Sally B.Reynolds.

Dr. J. B. Abbitt was a doctor in Appomattox at this time and he sent his patients to William Coleman's Drug Store to have their prescriptions filled. If William was busy, it might be John Coleman, his brother who would help you with your needs. Along with prescription drugs, you could buy patent medicines such as California "Syrup of Figs", Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, (guaranteed to cure back pain), Dr. Marshall's Catarrah Snuff, and others, you could buy candy, pencils, writing paper and afew other necessities and maybe even a few luxuries.

Mrs. Inge, in talking about these days of THEN, commented that there were a few years she wasn't sure about. Of one thing she was sure--Lawrence Furbush was the next owner operator of a Drug Store in Appomattox, If her memory serves her right, and it usually does, this was a small cottage-like frame building located approximately where the Farmers National Bank now stands. He later sold out to Dr. Charles F. James, who for a time operated the Drug Store in a portion of what is now the Appomattox Hardware Building. Dr.-James, who came to Appomattox from Lynchburg where he worked for a drug company, continued the business in this location until the building now standing on the corner of Main and Church was erected as a memorial to the J. R. Atwood estate.

Well, what do you know--after going across the railroad tracks to the beginnings of the Drug Store in Appomattox we are back to the corner once again. You know, if we keep going we might get that ice cream after all!

Charlotte County Alcohol Information Center Asks Asks:

Do you know the DO'S and DON'TS of living with an alcoholic?

DO

Try to remain calm, unemotional and factually honest in speaking with the problem drinker about his behavior and day to day consequences.

Let the problem drinker know that you are reading and learning about alcoholism, attending AL-ANON, and the like.

Discuss the situation with someone you trust --- a clergyman, social worker, a friend, or some individual who has experienced alcoholism either personally or as a family member.

Establish and maintain a healthy atmosphere in the home, and try to include the alcoholic member in family life.

Explain the nature of alcoholism as an illness to the children in the family.

Be patient and live one day at a time. Alcoholism generally takes a long time to develop, and recovery does not occur overnight.

Refuse to ride with the alcoholic person if he insists on drinking and driving.

DO NOT

Attempt to punish, threaten, bribe, preach, or try to be a martyr. Avoid emotional appeals which may only increase feelings of guilt and the compulsion to drink.

Allow yourself to cover-up or make excuses for the alcoholic person or shield him from the realistic consequences of his behavior.

Take over his responsibilities, leaving him with no sense of importance or dignity.

Hide or dump bottles, or try to drink along with the problem drinker.

Above all, do not accept guilt for another's behavior.
